

Join us in creating the first European Capital of Democracy

Starting in 2022, every year, a different city will be designated European Capital of Democracy, as chosen by a jury of 10,000 European citizens. In cooperation with civil society, the title-holding city will host a wide range of activities and events, all designed to improve and strengthen democracy.

Cities: Incubators of Democracy

In recent years, Europe has faced a series of unprecedented challenges, further exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic. Democracy is more important now than ever—but it also needs to keep evolving and adapting if it is to meet these challenges.

Cities have long been leading the way in democratic innovation. In recent years, many cities have organised citizens' consultations on issues such as the process of immigrant integration, traffic-free zones, the preservation of cultural heritage, and improving public transport. Cities both large and small throughout Europe serve as laboratories for new ideas and incubators for democracy.

That's why we've created the European Capital of Democracy—to celebrate democratic innovation, and to bring together like-minded cities who can share their best practices and learn from one another. Together, they will help shape the future of European democracy.

What are the benefits?

- ▶ The winning City will be highly visible as a beacon of European best practice.
- ▶ The citizens of Europe will enjoy hands-on involvement in developing new forms of democratic politics: as jury members, as participants in exchange conferences, and as visitors.
- ▶ Politicians in Europe can draw inspiration from best practices. They will participate in an open, personal network of political innovators beyond party lines, across borders, and at all levels of policy-making.

What will happen?

The European Capital of Democracy is a year-long programme of events hosted by the winning city, which puts citizens' participation at the heart of its activities.

- ▶ The programme begins with an opening festival open to all inhabitants of the city, giving them a chance to learn about the year's activities and find out more about how they can get involved.
- ▶ Throughout the year, the city will engage in a fruitful exchange with citizens, civil society and international visitors.
- ▶ The city will showcase the very best new projects from all over Europe, providing inspiration to politicians from throughout Europe.
- ▶ Citizens will be invited to play a hands-on role in developing new forms of democratic politics.
- ▶ The city will also host a range of established events, including the annual Innovation in Politics Awards and the ActNOW International Mayors' Conference.

The Selection Process

How does a city become a European Capital of Democracy?

- STAGE 1 Cities apply for the title, presenting a portfolio of their best democratic practices and new project ideas
- STAGE 2 An experts' jury evaluates the projects and decides on a shortlist of three to five cities
- STAGE 3 Finally, a jury of 10,000 European citizens selects the city to carry the title European Capital of Democracy

The Call for Proposals will open in March 2022, inviting cities to participate. The call is open to all cities throughout the member states of the Council of Europe.

Who we are

European Capital of Democracy is a non-profit organisation, founded by The Innovation in Politics Institute.

Based in Vienna and Berlin, with a network of partner organisations in 20 countries in Europe and beyond, The Innovation in Politics Institute constitutes a Europe-wide organisation dedicated to improving politics within the democratic spectrum irrespective of party affiliation. We also present The Innovation in Politics Awards. Since 2017, the Awards have honoured 598 people who are at the forefront of political innovation, giving visibility to the best political minds in Europe, providing them with a platform to present their innovative projects, and facilitating best practice exchange across borders.
